

Systech selects Vantage Consulting Group as their Sales Agent in Puerto Rico

Cranbury, NJ. August 8, 2011 - Systech International, the recognized global leader in Serialization, and Vantage Consulting Group (VCG), a leading systems engineering, automation, and manufacturing optimization services company, today announced that VCG will be Systech's Sales Agent for the pharmaceutical market in Puerto Rico. VCG now has the ability to provide local sales representation for Systech and their extensive customer-base in region.

"We are thrilled to work with Systech and offer manufacturers the premier software solutions they require to better protect and optimize their packaging operations," stated Roque A. Redondo, General Manager, Vantage Consulting Group. "Being a Systech Sales Agent allows us to not only enhance our product portfolio, but we are able to provide manufacturers with a comprehensive offering that includes installation and support of all Systech products."

Vantage has quickly developed as one of Puerto Rico's most trusted professional services firms. Manufacturers have relied on Vantage to perform system integration, QA, validation, engineering and compliance. Due to their expertise and in-region presence, Systech has selected Vantage to augment its deployment team in Puerto Rico. This relationship provides additional professional service capabilities to Systech's customers in need of machine, line and plant level solutions.

"It is our goal to arm our clients worldwide with the best product and support available," said David DeJean, Vice President, Business Development, Systech International. "Having Vantage as a Systech Sales Agent allows us to continue to satisfy our large customer base in Puerto Rico and provide them with additional expertise to successfully execute their packaging initiatives."
